If the hirer arranges transport themselves, the insurance should run from the moment that the hirer's hauliers collect the scenery until the moment that they return it. The scenery should be insured for its full replacement value (£8,000). All damages and losses other than normal wear and tear whilst on hire will be charged to the hirers, regardless of the cause of the damage or loss.

2. Shortages

We will take no responsibility for any items missing or received damaged unless reported to us immediately.

3. Electrical Items

All electrical items will have been tested prior to dispatch. No alterations or modifications should be made to these items.

6. Safety

Whether the scenery is collected and erected by the hirers or we deliver and assist with its erection, it is the ultimate responsibility of the hirers to ensure that the scenery is erected and operated in a safe manner with due regard to current legislation.

7. Force Majeure

Whilst every effort will be made to fulfil our agreement to the best of our ability, no responsibility can be accepted in case of circumstances beyond our control.
